

Marketing and Sales Worker

Who we are...

Barod is an established cooperative that has built a reputation for accessible information, consultation and co-production thinking. We employ a mixture of people with and without learning disability to provide products and services that work for everyone.

We are developing our brand and adding a number of new services and products to reach new markets in Wales and further afield.

Who you are...

You will be a self-motivated person who thrives in an innovative and challenging work environment. You will need to have experience marketing and finding new customers, and the ability to lead us in doing it better.

What you will do...

To achieve our ambitious plans for growth we need a marketing and sales worker to join our team. Working with others, you will prepare services and products for marketing and seek increased sales from existing and new clients.

As a co-op we pay the real living wage to everyone in our team.
